

Tinos Olive Mill House

In the traditional village of Ktikados, Tinos Olive Mill House is a beautifully restored nineteenth-century olive mill, where centuries of Cycladic stone meet the comfort of modern living. Spacious rooms open onto panoramic Aegean views, and history is woven into every wall. Four bedrooms sleep eight, a one-of-a-kind retreat for those who love authenticity without compromise.

Days here move to Tinos time, slow, quiet and unhurried. Take breakfast in the shade of old stone, spend the afternoon with a book and the Aegean stretched wide before you, then gather for a long dinner as the light fades. With a personal chef on request, even the simplest evening becomes something to remember.

Tinos Olive Mill House By RESTONI

Tinos Olive Mill House is made for slow, authentic living: mornings in the cool of old stone, long lunches with the sea in view, and evenings that stretch out beneath a quiet island sky.

Live like a Greek rest like a god

Inside, the old mill wears its history beautifully: thick stone walls, original character, and warm modern comfort layered gently over centuries of craft. Four restful bedrooms offer quiet corners to retreat to, while the living spaces are generous and light, opening out towards the terrace and the endless blue of the Aegean.

There is space here to gather and to wander. Eight guests, four bedrooms, and generous living areas where old stone and modern comfort sit easily together. The panoramic Aegean views hold the days; the character of the restored mill holds the evenings. With free WiFi, air conditioning, a personal chef on request, and pets welcome too, everything is kept simple, warm and wonderfully authentic.
