

Villa Irilia

On the hillside of Faros Armenistis, Villa Irilia opens to unobstructed, panoramic views over the Aegean. A large infinity-style pool reaches towards the horizon, while a shaded pergola and al fresco dining draw the day outdoors. Four comfortable bedrooms welcome up to ten guests, private and peaceful, yet only minutes from Panormos Beach and Mykonos Town.

Days here belong to the sun and the sea. Swim toward the horizon, retreat to the shade of the pergola at midday, then gather for long dinners outdoors as the sky turns to sunset. With daily housekeeping, a personal chef on request and a concierge on hand, the villa quietly takes care of everything but the view.

Villa Irilia By RESTONI

Live like a Greek rest like a god

Indoors, Villa Irilia is a tribute to Cycladic architecture softened by contemporary design: white walls, warm textures, and a generous living room made for gathering. The four bedrooms offer calm, restful corners to retreat to, while doors open wide to the terrace, where the pool and the endless blue take over.

Villa Irilia is made for unhurried, sun-soaked days: long lunches beneath the pergola, slow afternoons by the pool, and evenings that linger as the light fades over the Aegean.

Space and stillness define a stay here. Ten guests, four bedrooms, and open living areas that flow easily from inside to out. The infinity-style pool and its panoramic views hold the days; the pergola, the outdoor BBQ and the al fresco table hold the nights. With free WiFi, air conditioning, on-site parking and a personal chef on request, everything is arranged so you simply relax.

To stay at Villa Irlia is to slip into the island's gentler rhythm. Wake to the Aegean wide and open beyond the terrace, swim before the day warms, then let the hours drift beneath the pergola. When you want the island, Panormos Beach and Mykonos Town are minutes away; when you don't, the view is more than enough. Everything else is handled. You are asked only to be here, and rest.
